PREFACE

This first volume (72) to be prepared by the Columbia University Press since AMERICAN BOOK-PRICES CURRENT was acquired from Mr. Edward Lazare in the Spring of 1968 reports the auction season from September 1965 through August 1966. The typography has been revised, but the editorial arrangements have been kept very much as they were in previous volumes, and the present volume should not appear completely unfamiliar to regular users of AMERICAN BOOK-PRICES CURRENT.

Part I, Books, now includes Broad­sides and Maps & Charts. Part II, Autographs & Manuscripts, is divided: in Section I are illuminated manuscripts and all early manuscripts of historical importance; in Section II are later manuscripts and drawings, whether a collection, typescript, single document, letter, or corrected proof.

As in previous volumes, entries are listed alphabetically by author whenever possible, by title when the author's name is not readily available, or under separate Press or Club headings. Individual works are in turn listed alphabetically under each heading and include: title; place and date of publication; edition designation; size, binding, and condition of binding; descriptive material; limitation notices; and the sale record—auction house (in code), date or number of sale, lot number, price, and purchaser (when such information has been provided). There are consistent cross-references from the Club or Press books, books bound together, and books entered under such few subject headings as Costume or Trials.

Users will notice that the listings of twentieth-century books frequently lack format and binding. In such instances it may be fairly safely assumed that these books are octavo or duodecimo and bound in cloth. It has been the practice not to include such information for books published after 1900.

Perhaps the most striking feature in this volume, as it has been in recent years, is the continuing increase in the prices of antiquarian books. The present volume lists only those books and manuscripts sold for $10 or £3 or more. American sales are recorded in dollars and cents, English sales in pounds and shillings. The pound Sterling during this auction season was equal to $2.80, the shilling, $0.14.

This preface is brief because the editors have decided that they would not attempt to duplicate the unique personal and informative introductions that distinguished Mr. Lazare's volumes.

The following pages list the abbreviations used in this volume, the contributing auction houses and galleries, the chronological record of sales, and the named consignors of merchandise.
